

European Cadaver Dissection Course

23/28 November 2025

Centro Studi Palazzo Trecchi
Via Sigismondo Trecchi, n°20
Cremona (CR)

General Information

The course is promoted by the Confederation of the European Otorhinolaryngology and Head and Neck Surgery, as part of its educational projects aimed at supporting the continuous training and education of European ENT specialists. The program is structured into three main modules: Head and Neck Surgery, Endoscopic Sinonasal Surgery, and Otologic Surgery. Each dissection session will be preceded by detailed instructional videos, providing clear and step-by-step guidance to facilitate the learning process. Hands-on training will be supported by a dedicated tutor assigned to every two dissection stations, ensuring personalized supervision. The course includes a total of 13 stations accommodating two participants per station for the first two modules and 10 stations with one participant each for the third module. The dissection program is designed to be flexible and adaptable, tailored to meet the specific needs and expertise levels of each participant.
